About this guideline

This document provides details of the font license user agreement and is aimed at anyone using fonts (both internally and externally) at Orange.

The brand font at Orange is Helvetica Neue 75 Bold and Helvetica Neue 55 Roman. Helvetica Neue is a protected font software licensed to Orange by Monotype.

If you wish to use other fonts in your layouts, you need to ensure you have the correct license in place and your line manager's authorization.

It is the sole responsibility of the user/entity to ensure adherence to these guidelines as any deviation may result in financial penalties to the relevant entity.

Helvetica Now is covered under the same user agreement.

Q&A

Can I use other flavours of Helvetica?

No. The license is specific to the Helvetica Neue font software available at brand.orange.com only. All users of the Orange brand (both internally and externally e.g. agencies, developers) must use only the licensed version Helvetica Neue from brand.orange.com

Can I modify the naming or meta-data of the Helvetica Neue font software?

No.

Can I use other fonts at Orange ?

No. Helvetica Neue should be used as the primary font software in all Orange touchpoints. For digital embedding, if Helvetica Neue is not possible, use the native system font e.g. San Francisco/Helvetica for iOS, Roboto for Android or Segoe for Windows. For details on how to use creative typography, download the 'Creative typography' guideline on brand.orange.com.

What happens if embedding Helvetica Neue isn't possible – can I embed an alternative font?

If embedding Helvetica Neue is not possible, use the native system font e.g. San Francisco/Helvetica for iOS, Roboto for Android or Segoe for Windows.

Can I use Arial in Orange communications?

Yes – if it is a native system font in digital on MacOS and Windows operating systems, but not in iOS and Android.

No – for all other communication touchpoints. Arial is a font software owned by Monotype and requires a commercial license.

Can I embed Helvetica Neue into App software?

Yes. The font license covers us for unlimited perpetual usage on all Orange mobile apps worldwide accessible on all devices (computers, tablets, smartphones and connected objects).

Can I embed the Helvetica Neue font software into the device hardware e.g. set-top box?

No. Helvetica Neue font software must be covered by a third-party license between the supplier and Monotype.

What happens if my language is not supported by Helvetica Neue?

Please contact a member of the Global brand team.

Can my agency/supplier use the Helvetica Neue font software?

Yes, if they have been contracted to work for Orange and have registered on brand.orange.com.
